The Board of Law Examiners will verify that the student meets the requirements and will publish the name on the Minnesota Supreme Court website at www.mncourts.gov/?page=3122. The Board will confirm the student's name and date of certification by letter to the law school.

Certification is valid for 12 months unless one of the following occurs:

- (1) Certification is withdrawn by the dean, unit, agency, organization, or supervising lawyer;
- (2) Certification is terminated by the Board of Law Examiners;
- (3) The student is placed on academic probation;
- (4) The student does not take the first bar examination following his or her graduation (certification terminates on the first day of the exam);
- (5) The student takes but fails the bar examination (certification terminates upon notice to the dean and the law student of such failure); or
- (6) The student takes and passes the bar examination and is admitted to the bar.

Law students may be recertified for additional 12-month periods. See Rules for Student Practice for details. If recertification is not requested, student names will be removed from the list after 12 months.
