Child Protection	All juvenile child protection case records filed before July 1, 2002 in sites that were NOT part of the pilot project (see previous frame for list of pilot project sites). Child Protection	Electronic Records. Juvenile child protection records maintained in electronic format in court information systems.	No direct public access to information in electronic format unless expressly authorized by the court (e.g., by court order). This is designed to preclude widespread distribution of case records about children into larger, private databases that could be used to discriminate against children for insurance, employment, and other purposes. This concern also underlies the requirement in rule 8.08 that case titles in the petition and other documents include only the names of the parent or other legal custodian or legal guardian, and exclude the names or initials of the children. Courts may by court order, but are not required to, prepare and release to the public appropriate electronic formats such as calendars that identify cases by the appropriate caption. The prohibition on direct public access to electronic formats does not prohibit disclosure of print outs from computer, such as TCIS activity summary, provided information in the print out is not otherwise off limits to the public (see other frames regarding Child Protection records).	Minn.R.Juv.Prot.P. 8.06

In some counties, these types of offices are located in the courthouse and in other counties they are in a separate building. Remote Access	Remotely Accessible Case Records, cont.	Preconviction Restrictions: reasonable efforts and reasonable and proportionate resources must be expended to prevent preconviction criminal records from being electronically searched by defendant name by the majority of known, mainstream automated tools. These tools include the courts' own computer systems (e.g., MNCIS). "Preconviction criminal record" is a record, other than an appellate court record, for which there is no conviction as defined in MINN. STAT. § 609.02, subd. 5 (2004), on any of the charges. An "appellate court record" means the appellate court's opinions, orders, judgments, notices and case management system records, but not the trial court record related to an appeal. E-mail and Facsimile Transmission. Any record custodian may, in the custodian's discretion and subject to applicable fees, provide public access by e-mail or facsimile transmission to publicly accessible records that would not otherwise be remotely accessible under Access Rule 8, subd. 2 (e.g., criminal complaints, pleadings, orders, disposition bulletins, and other documents). This restores prior practice that was inadvertently cut off by the scope of "remote access" limits. Limiting such disclosures to the discretion of the court administrator relies on the common sense of court staff to ensure that this exception does not swallow the limits on remote and bulk data access.	Access Rule 8, subd. 2
