FILED

ORDER RE APPEAL PERIOD UNDER RULE 47.02, SUBDIVISION 2, OF RULES
OF JUVENILE PROTECTION PROCEDURE

In an order filed June 10, 2009, we promulgated amendments to the Rules of Juvenile Protection Procedure to be effective as to all actions or proceedings pending on or commenced on or after August 1, 2009. In an order filed June 30, 2009, we clarified the applicability of those amendments to time periods already running on the effective date of the amendments. It has come to our attention that the notice of filing form used by court administrators to inform litigants of the filing of the court's order and the right to appeal was not changed to state the shortened appeal period of 20 days under the amended Minn. R. Juv. Prot. P. 47.02, subd. 2, until September 21, 2009. In light of the potential for late-filed appeals resulting from the misinformation disseminated by that notice, we conclude it is in the interests of justice to extend the applicability of the former 30-day appeal period for a short time.

Based on all the files, records, and proceedings herein,

IT IS HEREBY ORDERED that appeals in juvenile protection matters of orders filed from August 1, 2009, through September 30, 2009, shall be considered timely if taken within the time permitted under Rule 47.02, subd. 2, prior to the August 1, 2009 amendment.

Dated: October 5, 2009
