MEMORANDUM IN SUPPORT OF MOTION TO DISMISS

Mark Dayton,

Defendant/Contestee.

Mark Dayton ("Contestee") received a majority of the Democratic votes cast for Democratic candidates for the United States Senate at the primary election held on September 12, 2000 and was duly declared the nominee for that position by the State Canvassing Board. He now submits this memorandum in support of his motion to dismiss unsuccessful candidate Ole Savior's ("Contestant") Complaint. Based on the procedural and substantive deficiencies discussed below, Contestant's Complaint must be dismissed with prejudice. Any a delay in dismissing this action cuts against established precedents and frustrates the underlying purpose of campaign laws, namely refraining from interfering with the electoral process.

FACTS

This September, Contestee won the DFL primary for United States Senate, with a total vote of 178,972. See Exhibit 1 (Certification by Secretary of State of Canvassing Board , Results). Candidate's closest contender received a total vote of 96,874. Id. Contestant, also a contender in this primary race, received 1,206 votes. Id.

The canvass on this primary race was completed on September 19, 2000. Id. On September 22, 2000, Contestant filed a Complaint in Ramsey County District Court, demanding among other things for Candidate to undergo self-examination and for "intervention" into an alleged case of election fraud from "trying to influence voters." See Exhibit 2 (Complaint). In addition to his Complaint, Contestant submitted four purported affidavits of service. See Exhibit 3A-D (Affidavits of Service). Two of the affidavits were "served" by certified mail (see Exhibits 3A-B); one of the affidavits was for "personal service" (see Exhibit 3C); and one of the affidavits reflected service of "the Dayton Campaign" (see Exhibit 3D). There was no personal service on the Contestee and never has been.

I. The Complaint Does Not Comply With The Procedural Requirements of Minn. Stat. § 209 (1998).

A. Contestant's notice must be dismissed because personal service has not been effected.

Contestant failed to perfect service under the Minnesota Rules of Civil Procedure. Minn. Stat. § 209.021 declares that service of notice of an election contest must be performed in the same way as service of a summons and complaint. See Holmen v. Miller, 296 Minn. 99, 102, 206 N.W.2d 916, 918 (1973) (noting service of notice of contest made in same manner as service of summons in civil actions). Under Minn. R. Civ. P. 4.03(a), personal service is completed by "delivering a copy [of the notice] to the individual personally or by leaving a copy at the individual's usual place of abode." Service may also be achieved by "mailing a copy [of the notice] . . . to the person to be served, together with two copies of the notice and acknowledgment [of service] . . . and a return envelope, postage prepaid, addressed to the sender." Minn. R. Civ. P. 4.05.

Contestant attached to the Complaint filed with the Ramsey County District Court four affidavits of service of the notice of election contest. The affidavits, if valid, indicate that Contestant attempted service on Contestee by: (1) hand delivering the notice of election contest to Mark Dayton's campaign headquarters (no individual receiving the papers is identified), and (2) sending by certified mail, copies of the notice to Contestee's home, Contestee's campaign headquarters, and the Secretary of State. Contestant's efforts are faulty because not only was Contestee not personally served within the statutory prescribed period, but he never has been effectively served under applicable law.

Under Minn. Stat. § 209.021, subd. 3 (1998), a notice of election contest must first be served on the candidate who is the contestee, and then a copy of the notice must be sent to the contestee's last known address by certified mail. At this point, a copy of the notice may also be sent at this point to the Secretary of State if the contest relates to a constitutional amendment or other question voted on statewide or voted on in more than one county. Id. In an attempt to personally serve Contestee under Minn. Stat. §209.021, subd. 3, Contestant hand delivered the notice to Contestee's campaign headquarters without ever personally serving Contestee. But because Contestant named Contestee, not his campaign committee, as the opposing party in this matter, his delivery of the notice to a worker of the campaign committee does not suffice. Cf. Minn. R. Civ. P. 4.03(b)-(c) (stating delivery to officer or agent of partnership or corporation constitutes sufficient service). Because Contestee's campaign headquarters is not his "personal abode," Contestant's attempt at substitute service by leaving the notice with a campaign employee also is insufficient. See Minn. R. Civ. P. 4.03(a) (noting personal service sufficient if summons left with person at individual's home who is of suitable age and discretion residing therein). Moreover, Contestant's later attempt to serve Contestee by certified mail fails because he did not accompany the notice with the acknowledgment, which is necessary for service by mail. Minn. R. Civ. P. 4.05. Under these circumstances, Contestant failed to provide Contestee with sufficient service of the notice and thus cannot proceed with the Complaint for lack of personal jurisdiction.

B. Contestant failed to serve the notice of election contest within five days after completion of the canvass.

Under Minnesota's Election Contests statute, a party contesting a nomination or election must serve the notice of election contest on the candidate "within five days after the canvass is completed." Minn. Stat. § 209.021, subd. 1 (1998). Because the right to contest an election and the authority of courts to hear and determine an election contest are purely statutory, courts are powerless to entertain such proceedings absent compliance with this requirement. Schmitt v. McLaughlin, 275 N.W.2d 587, 590 (Minn. 1979). Chapter 209's procedural requirements cannot be overemphasized and must be strictly observed in order to provide the court with jurisdiction of the contest. See Hancock v. Lewis, 265 Minn. 519, 522, 122 N.W.2d 592, 594 (1963) (noting elections contests are solely creatures of statute).

Contestant filed his Complaint with the Ramsey County District Court on September 22, 2000. Contestant appears to have attempted service on Contestee on September 22, 2000. But as previously noted, Contestant never properly effected service. Although Contestant may argue his service of the notice "substantially complied" with the statute, substantial compliance with the statute's strict procedural requirements is insufficient. See Rachner v. Growe, 400 N.W.2d 749, 751 (Minn. App. 1987) (affirming trial court's dismissal of notice for lack of jurisdiction because appellant did not comply "with the precise terms of the statute"), review denied (Minn. Apr. 17, 1987). Contestant was required to serve notice on Contestee before September 22, 2000, and his failure to do so leaves the court with no choice but to dismiss his Complaint for lack of jurisdiction.<sup>1</sup>

Contestant filed an earlier Notice of Contest involving the election of Governor Ventura. The Supreme Court upheld a dismissal of that contest. Savior v. Ventura, et al, C4-99-46 Order of the Supreme Court dated April 1, 1999. See Exhibit 4 (Order dated April 1, 1999).

C. The Complaint fails to state a claim for which relief can be granted.

Under Minn. Stat. § 209.021, subd. 1, a notice of contest must specify the "grounds on which the [election] contest will be made." The legislature no doubt included this requirement so that an election contest can focus on specific alleged improprieties in order to function efficiently and expeditiously. Holmen v. Miller, 296 Minn. at 109, 206 N.W.2d at 921. To do so, the notice must state facts "sufficient to apprise the contestee of the grounds of the contest so that [s]he is given a fair opportunity to meet the asserted claims." Rachner, 400 N.W.2d at 751. Because the basic question in an election contest is whether the election resulted in a free and fair expression of the will of the voters on the merits, the facts in the contest must indicate not only how the candidate violated applicable election laws but also how the violation affected the outcome of the election. Hancock, 265 Minn. at 523, 122 N.W.2d at 595.

Contestant's Complaint fails to state with specificity any irregularities in the conduct of the United States Senate DFL Primary election that implicate the election laws cited by Contestant and support an election contest. Instead, the Complaint makes vague allusions to Contestee's alleged attempt to "unduly influence voters." One allegation provided by Contestant is that Contestee's Rx Express Program was established "to induce voters in a particular manner to vote for [Contestee] in the up coming [sic] U.S. Senate 2000 elections." Contestant would claim this implicates Minn. Stat. § 211B.13 regarding campaign practices. See Minn. Stat. § 211B.13 (stating "person who willfully, directly or indirectly, advances, pays, gives, promises, or lends any money... or other thing of monetary value... in order to induce a voter to refrain from voting, or to vote in a particular way").

Minn. Stat. § 211B.13 is pre-empted in this case by a provision of federal law because the federal law covers the same general subject matter and the same behavior sought to be regulated. Specifically, 18 U.S.C. §597 (1997) covers improprieties in federal elections, while Chapter 211B addresses the same state election conduct and this preempts Chapter 211B in this matter. See United State v. Bruno, 144 F.Supp. 593, 595 (D.C.III 1955) (stating object of 18 U.S.C. § 597 is to "prevent frauds that would affect the vote for representatives of congress"); United States v. Blanton, 77 F.Supp. 812, 815 (D.C.Mo. 1948) (noting purpose of 18 U.S.C. § 597 is to "guard against. . . direct and intentional frauds upon the votes"). However, even under Minn. Stat. §211B, Contestant's Complaint fails because it does not state how the Rx Express program induced voters to vote for Contestee nor does it overcome the fact that the support of Rx Express participants could not have caused Contestee's victory over the other primary candidates by more than 80,000 votes. See Hancock, 265 Minn. at 523, 122 N.W.2d at 595 (recognizing notice must demonstrate how result would have been different but for irregularities). Under these circumstances, Contestant's Complaint must be dismissed for failure to state a claim for which relief can be granted.

II. The Court lacks jurisdiction to "intervene" in response to Contestant's Complaint.

In his Complaint, Contestant alleges Contestee engaged in election fraud and asks the court for "intervention" into the matter. But Chapter 209 does not permit Minnesota courts to render an opinion in response to allegations of election fraud at this level. Instead, Minn. Stat. § 209.12 (1998) states that the court may only determine which party to the contest received the highest number of votes legally cast at the election. Any other evidence, "including but not limited to the question of the right of any person to nomination or office on the ground of deliberate, serious, and material violation of the provisions of Minnesota election law," must be taken and preserved by the judge trying the contest; the judge may not make any findings or conclusions on those points. Id. (emphasis added). Evidence, if any is taken, is forwarded to the presiding officer of the United States Senate to investigate. Id.

Here, Contestant makes vague allegations in his Complaint relating to Minnesota's election laws. See Minn. Stat. §211B.13 (1998) (giving things of value statute); §211B.07 (1998) (undue influence). But these election laws were not intended as rules for federal election contests. Although in Flaten v. Kvale, 146 Minn. 463, 466, 179 N.W. 213, 214-15 (1920), the state courts ruled on an issue in a federal primary for a congressional seat, such state judicial actions have been criticized. See 70 Harvard Law Review 1077 (1957). Instead, the better practice is to recognize that Congress alone shall be the judge of the elections, returns and qualifications of its members. U.S. Const. art. I §5. Unless the election contest also involves the question of which candidate received a majority of the votes cast, a court has no jurisdiction over an election contest involving alleged violations of election fraud statutes. Id.; see State ex rel. 25 Voters v. Selvig, 170 Minn. 406, 407 (1927) (noting court's jurisdiction over primary election contests is limited to determining whether administration of such elections was valid, and courts may not encroach upon congressional power to determine who is seated in United States Senate).

Because the Constitution declares that each house of Congress shall be the judge of the elections, returns and qualification of its own members, matters are left for the United States Congress to evaluate. Youngdale v. Estvold, 232 Minn. 134, 144, 44 N.W.2d 459, 464 (1950); Selvig, 170 Minn. at 407. U.S. Const., art. I, § 5; Phillips v. Ericson, 248 Minn. 452, 459, N.W.2d 513, 519 (1957). The Court, therefore, lacks authority to "intervene" as requested by Contestant's Complaint.

CONCLUSION

"In contests over nominations and elections, it is highly important that the dispute be disposed of speedily in order that the election machinery may not be completely thrown out of gear." Youngdale, 232 Minn. at 144, 44 N.W.2d at 464 (1950). In this case, the deficiencies in Contestant's Complaint leave the court with no choice but to dismiss this action immediately as a matter of law. The voters of Minnesota have been given an opportunity to freely and fairly vote and elected Contestee as their DFL U.S. Senate candidate. Failure to dismiss this Complaint not only gives unsuccessful candidates, such as Contestant, another shot at preventing this nomination but, more importantly, ignores the voter's clear support of Contestee.

Mark Dayton

COMPLAINT: Rx EXPRESS Usage : to influence Voters.

There is a pattern of abuse of power Mark Dayton uses in this U.S. Senate 2000 election. These public illeal contributions are actually an attempt to influence voters with private money in order to obtain public sympathy as well as free publicity from the news media coverage for Daytons candidacy.

I am requesting that he be disqualified as Minnesota Statute 211B states.

EXHIBIT 2

(2 of 3)

As a millionaire he uses his private money in order to obtain an unfair advantage over other candidates.

Public sympathy as well as free publicity from the news media coverage for Dayton's candidacy is like money in the bank.

RX EXPRESS Usage: to influence Voters and offers of monetary value and promises to induce voters in a particular manner to vote for Mark Dayton in the up coming U.S. Senate 2000 elections in Minnesota. 211B.13 Bribery, Treating, and Solicitation. Violation of the Minnesota State Fair Campaign practice Laws. Violation 211B.07 Influence on voters PROHIBITED. 211A.10 Disgualified Individuals Not To Hold Various Positions.

Mark Dayton has clearly violated those Minnesota statute laws. His drug policy played on the fears of the elderly. Buying votes in an illegal criminal act also immoral.

He should be disqualified A.S.A.P. 211A.10 MN. Statute. Dayton is not at all in touch with the average man or women in Minnesota. He thinks he can buy this election and unfortunantely he comes across as untrustworthy and elitist, trying to make the public think he's a nice guy when truthfully he is just using his millions like he unsuccessfully failed to do before.

He has even stolen other candidate speeches and televised - them as his own in hopes of influencing voters at the other candidates expense politically.

He gives out his home phone number to people on the street that want finanical help to impress the news media of his generousity to the poor and a good reason to become a U.S. Senator.

He is trying to buy this election at any cost. His honor system needs to be self examined.

(3 of 3)

Mark Dayton claims he would accept $1.00 a year salary was to gain favor with voters in an unfair manner towards the other candidates a few days before the election.

In referance also to the Minnesota Fair Campaign Laws that were violated, Constitutional Laws and Civil Rights Laws occured preceeding the election. Mark Dayton used censorship and exclusion from debates, collusion with three other candidates to deny me my rights as a legal U.S. Senate candidate.

" IN GOOD FAITH

As a voter and resident of Minnesota and

As a candidate for U.S. Senate Minnesota 2000 D.F.L. also I am requesting your intervention into this case of election fraud of intentionally trying to buy election votes by Mark Dayton, or any other infraction in the Fair CAMPAIGN Laws he violated with his activities during this election year U.S. Senate Minnesota 2000.

Jesse Ventura, et al.,

ORDER

On February 5, 1999, pro se appellant Ole Savior filed with this court a document identified as a petition for accelerated review, a petition for review of a decision of the Court of Appeals and a conditional petition for review. The document also contains language typical of a notice of appeal.

On March 17, 1999, respondents Jesse Ventura and Dean Barkley filed a motion to dismiss the appeal Respondents argue that the appeal should be dismissed because it is untimely and that certain constitutional issues asserted by appellant were improperly raised for the first time in the appeal to this court. We conclude that the appeal is untimely and must be dismissed.

Appellant seeks review of a court of appeals' order filed January 27, 1999, dismissing his appeal from a Ramsey County District Court judgment entered on January 22, 1999. The district court judgment dismissed an election contest brought by appellant against Jesse Ventura and Dean Barkley. The election contest was filed in the district court on November 10, 1998.

EXHIBIT 4

apparently challenging the results of the September 15, 1998 primary election of Jesse Ventura as the gubernatorial candidate of the Reform Party and the November 3, 1998 general election of respondent Ventura as governor The basis for appellant's challenge was his allegation that on July 21, 1998, respondents Ventura and Barkley, his campaign manager, violated the Fair Campaign Practices Act, Minn. Stat. ch. 211B (1998), by their payment of the $600 filing fee for the Republican Party gubernatorial primary on behalf of a candidate, Bill Dahl. This payment enabled Dahl, who had previously filed as a candidate in the Reform Party gubernatorial primary against respondent Ventura, to switch to the Republican Party primary, thus benefiting respondent Ventura by removing his only opponent in the Reform Party primary.

The district court granted respondents' motion to dismiss on grounds that appellant had not properly served the respondents pursuant to Minn. Stat. § 209.021, subd. 2 (1998), that he had not furnished a copy of his notice of contest to the Secretary of State as required by Minn. Stat § 209.021, subd. 3 (1998), and that the election contest was in any event untimely because it was in reality a challenge to the primary election, not the general election. A challenge concerning a primary election must be brought within five days after the canvass for the primary is completed. Minn. Stat. § 209.021, subd. 1 (1998). The 1998 primary canvass was completed on September 22, 1998, but appellant did not commence his election contest until November 10. Judgment dismissing the election contest was entered on December 22, 1998.

On January 5, 1999, appellant filed an appeal to the court of appeals from the December 22 judgment dismissing his case. By order filed January 27, 1999, the court of appeals granted respondents' motion to dismiss the appeal. The court of appeals explained that it does not have jurisdiction to hear appeals of contests concerning elections for statewide office. Minnesota Statutes sections 209.09, subd. 2, and 209.10, subd. 4 (1998), require that those appeals be directed to this court. The court of appeals also pointed out that appellant's notice of appeal was untimely, because an appeal of an election contest must be taken within 10 days of entry of judgment if the contest concerns the general election and within 5 days of entry of judgment if the contest concerns the primary election, and appellant's notice of appeal was filed 14 days after entry of judgment. Id.

Then, as noted above, on February 5, 1999, appellant filed with this court a document identified as a petition for accelerated review, a petition for review of a decision of the court of appeals and a conditional petition for review. Addressing that document as a petition for review of the decision of the court of appeals under Minn. R. Civ. App. P. 117, the petition is denied.

We recognize that appellant is appearing pro se and that he alleges that he was told that an appeal from the district court's dismissal of his case would be to the court of appeals. We further note that the petition contains language typical of a notice of appeal. Therefore, we will also treat appellant's document as a notice of appeal to this court.<sup>1</sup>

Even viewing the document as a notice of appeal and treating it as if it had been filed with this court on January 5, the date when the prior notice of appeal to the court of appeals was filed, appellant's appeal from the judgment entered December 22, 1998, is untimely. As an appeal of an election contest challenging the primary election, the appeal had to be filed within 5 days of entry of judgment, that is, by December 30. Even if construed as an appeal of an election contest challenging the general election, the appeal had to be filed within 10 days of entry of judgment, that is, by January 4.<sup>2</sup> The appeal was filed on January 5 and did not meet either deadline. This court has long held that since the right to contest an election and the authority of the courts to hear and determine election contests are purely statutory, absent strict compliance with the statutory requirements, the courts are powerless to entertain such contests or appeals therefrom. E.g., Schmitt v. McLaughlin, 275 N.W.2d 587 (Minn. 1979). Accordingly, treating appellant's document as a notice of appeal, the appeal must be dismissed as untimely.

Finally, the procedure followed by the district court in this matter requires comment. Minnesota Statutes section 209.045 (1998) requires that an election contest concerning a statewide office must be heard in Ramsey County District Court. When such a case is filed, the court administrator is required to notify the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, who then appoints three judges to hear and determine the case. Id. Appellant points out that this process was not followed in this case. In its decision dismissing appellant's election contest, the district court did not address this procedure or explain why it was not followed.

We emphasize that in the future the court administrator must notify the Chief Justice and follow this statutory procedure in all election contests concerning a statewide office, even if the district court believes there are jurisdictional defects in the election contest. We decide this appeal even though the statutory procedure was not followed in the district court only in the interests of judicial economy and because the interests of justice would not be served by a remand that would inevitably conclude with the same result. See State v. Lothenbach, 296 N.W.2d 854, 858 (Minn. 1980) (court entertains appeal in interests of justice rather than remand for proper procedure followed by another appeal). Nevertheless, in the future this decision will not be treated as precedent for ignoring the statutory procedure even if the correct result is reached

&lt;sup>2</sup> The ten days would have run on Friday, January 1. Since January 1 was a holiday followed by two weekend days, the deadline for filing the appeal was extended to Monday, January 4. See Minn. R. Civ. P. 6.05, incorporated into the Rules of Civil Appellate Procedure by Rule 126.01, Minn. R. Civ. App. P.

Based upon all the files, records and proceedings herein,

IT IS HEREBY ORDERED that the petition for review is denied, and

IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that to the extent appellant's document is intended to serve as a notice of appeal, the appeal is dismissed as untimely.
