Computers on Courtroom Benches

The judges of the Eighth Judicial District discussed the purchase and maintenance of personal computers for every courtroom bench in the District at a quarterly judges meeting on March 3, 2006. Technological advancements, the implementation of MNCIS and other on-line information necessitates that every bench be equipped with a networked personal computer.

It is the policy of the Eighth Judicial District that each courtroom bench shall be equipped with a networked personal computer or laptop computer where appropriate. These computers shall be maintained and upgraded pursuant to Minnesota Judicial Branch standards.
