

MINNESOTA JUDICIAL BRANCH

Minnesota State Court System

The Supreme Court

The Minnesota Supreme Court was established in 1849 and consists of 7 justices. While appeals are the main business of the Supreme Court, it also receives attorney and judge disciplinary cases. The Supreme Court has another, less visible role; it is responsible for overseeing the machinery of justice in the state, for regulating the practice of law, and making recommendations for improvement of the judicial system.

The Court of Appeals

The Minnesota Court of Appeals began in 1983 and is comprised of 19 judges. This court hears appeals or reviews cases from all Minnesota district courts. About 2,000 appeals are filed in this court each year and the Court of Appeals' decisions are the final ruling in about 95 percent of those appeals.

The District Courts

Minnesota's trial courts are located throughout 87 counties in the state and are organized into 10 judicial districts. In a year, more than 2 million cases are heard in the trial courts throughout the state by nearly 300 judges.

State Court Administrator's Office

Working under the direction of the Judicial Council, the State Court Administrator's Office provides leadership and direction for the effective operations of the Minnesota Judicial Branch as well as central administrative infrastructure services for the Judicial Branch.

EXPLORE THE POSSIBILITIES

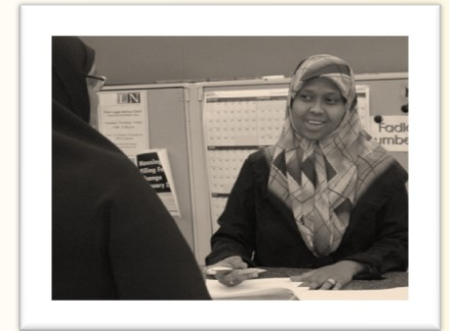

The Volunteer, Intern, and Student Worker opportunities in the court are as diverse as the community we serve and the people that choose to volunteer their time here. When people think of the legal system, they usually think of judges and attorneys, but opportunities abound beyond courtroom walls. Whether you are seeking an opportunity for career exploration, are interested in obtaining college credit, or are simply looking to make a difference for your community, the Minnesota Judicial Branch offers you many opportunities in which to grow, learn, and lend a helping hand.

The Minnesota Judicial Branch is committed to providing fair and equal access to justice. If you share this same commitment and desire a
