RE: Your letter dated October 23, 2018

Dear Mr. Gleekel:

I have reviewed and considered your letter dated October 23, 2018 seeking clarification with respect to potential ambiguities in the Court's October 17, 2018 Amended Order Granting Bremer Trust, N.A.'s Motion to Lift the Stay of Discharge and Approve Payment of Attorneys' Fees and Costs ("Amended Order"). I have also reviewed and considered various responsive documents including a letter from Julian Zebot, Esq. on behalf of Bremer Trust dated November 6, 2018; a letter from Liz Kramer, Esq. on behalf of Stinson Leonard Street dated November 8, 2018; Alfred Jackson's Objection To And Motion For Clarification Of The Court's October 17, 2018 Order filed November 8, 2018; a letter from Erin Lisle on behalf of CAK Entertainment, Inc. and Charles Koppelman dated November 9, 2018; and a letter from L. Londell McMillan on behalf of himself and NorthStar Enterprises Worldwide, Inc. dated November 9, 2018.

In issuing the Amended Order, the Court intended to release only Bremer Trust, including only its employees, officers and directors. It was not the Court's intent to preclude any potential claims the Estate may have against Stinson Leonard Street, Meister Seelig, NorthStar, or CAK. Nor did the Court intend that its approval of payment of fees and costs incurred by Bremer would discharge the subject law firms from any potential liability to the Estate. The Court would intend to issue a Second Amended Order clarifying these issues (and granting in part Mr. Jackson's motion) however, the Amended Order is now subject to appeal. Unless the appeal is withdrawn, the Court will await direction from the Court of Appeals before issuing a Second Amended Order.
